Hope In The Resurrection

Sunday, as we come to lesson two in our current preaching series about the resurrection, we listen to Paul's words to the Corinthians about the hope that it provides. In the 15th chapter of I Corinthians, which will serve as our lesson text, Paul reminds his readers that the last enemy to be destroyed is death. He urges them to remain steadfast and not to give up and he tells us all that God has put everything under the feet of Jesus who has by His own resurrection conquered death.

As human beings, made of flesh and blood, we all find something to put our hope in. Some place their hope in the things of this life, not realizing that one day it will all be gone. Others place their hope in relationships, power, notoriety and fame. All of these, will one day be gone as well. Only in Jesus do we find true hope that lasts forever and that will bring us joy beyond anything we have ever experienced or could even imagine. If the resurrection is not true, Paul will tell us what that means. If it is true, he will also tell us what to expect. I look forward to exploring that with you Sunday!

THE SHEPHERD'S PEN

This is last week of the month of October. The forecast is for a beautiful week with a chance of must-needed rain on Sunday. There are two things to remember this week: Halloween On The Hill Saturday afternoon from 2pm-4pm. It will be fun for all ages. Saturday night remember to change your clocks! Peter wrote in II Peter 1:3, "His divine power has given us all things that pertain to life and godliness." There are times in life when situations arise that we feel overwhelmed, discouraged, and unsure of how we will make it through. We look at the challenges before us and wonder whether we have enough strength to keep going. Peter reminds us through God's divine power we have been given everything we need for life and godliness. Our strength is not found in ourselves. Our hope is not in our circumstances. Our victory is found in God's power. Our Christian life does not depend solely on human strength, personal ability, or determination. We need the power of God working in us. When we are weak, God can strengthen us. (Isaiah 40:29) When we are tempted, God provides a way to overcome temptation. (I Corinthians 10:13) When we are discouraged, God gives us hope. (Isaiah 40:31) When we face trials, God's gives us grace to persevere. (Hebrews 4:16) The question is not whether we are strong enough on our own, but whether we will trust the One whose power is sufficient. Looking forward to seeing you this Sunday. Let worship this Sunday be a top priority for you and your family.
