Devoted To One Another In Brotherly Love

Sunday, we come to the fifth and final lesson in our current Sunday morning preaching series and listen to Paul and listen to Jesus talk about the importance of our relationships with one another. We will explore the humility needed to keep those relationships strong and the willingness when we have wronged another to both admit it and then to do something constructive about it. Jesus asks us to do the 'hard' thing, to take the initiative of reconciliation and to deal with another in the manner in which He has dealt with us. It's a hard challenge, but an important one nonetheless.

Throughout this series, we have taken a long look in a clean mirror and explored the self-evaluation that every believer must be about. God gives us the power and the strength to do His will on this earth in the manner it gets accomplished in heaven. I look forward to finishing this series with you Sunday!

It continues to be very hot and humid. Hope everyone has fared well in the heat. We are very thankful for the occasional rainfall that is keeping everything green and watered. Life is often described as a journey. Every day we make choices about the direction we will take and the values we will follow. As a Christian, we are not merely to believe in Jesus from a distance. We are called to walk with Him every day. Walking with Jesus means living in fellowship with Him, trusting His guidance, obeying His word, and becoming more like Him in our example. So, are we simply just talking about Jesus or are we truly walking "In Step With The Savior?" Paul encourages us "to walk worthy of the calling with which you were called." (Ephesians 4:1) Looking forward to seeing you this Sunday. Let worship this Sunday be a top priority for you and your family.
