THE INTERN'S INSIGHT...

Hello Centerville family,

We are now in the final stretch before camp officially starts for the summer! Our staff is working tirelessly to get everything in place and ready to go and cannot wait for it to finally get here. Meanwhile, Harper, Carter, and I have been making great strides in preparation for VBS and cannot wait to share it with you all. This week in Wednesday Bible class, the teens and I are embarking on a 3-part miniseries in which we will be building a logical case for the existence of God using various evidences and our intellect. There is much to be grateful for here at Centerville. One does not have to look far to see how richly God has blessed us. God be with you all, Cooper Brown
